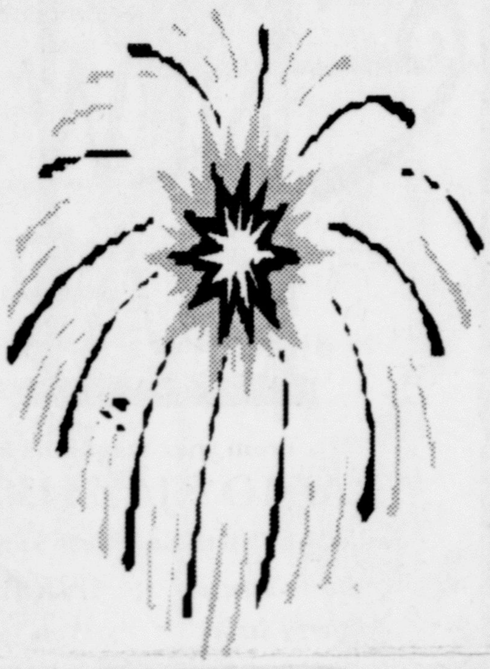
Bundle up, bring a radio, and watch the New Year's Eve fireworks

From Art Schroeder City of West Sacramento



For the second year, spectacular fireworks will light up the sky above the Sacramento riverfront on New Year's Eve, Monday, December 31.

Not one, but two free "sky concerts" are scheduled. The first will begin at the family-friendly time of 10 p.m. The second show will ring in the new year, at midnight. The "sky concerts" will be accompanied by a patriotic music broadcast on "The Eagle," 96.9 FM, so visitors are invited to bring along a radio. The best vantage points are West Sacramento's River Walk Park and the Sacramento Riverfront Promenade, just south of the Tower Bridge.

Festivities begin on the Old Sacramento Waterfront park tent at 8:30 p.m. The Ophir Prison Band will perform traditional American "oldies." Families will find kettle corn, cider, hot chocolate and coffee.

The event is presented by Old Sacramento Management, the Sacramento Convention and Visitor's Bureau, the City of Sacramento and the City of West Sacramento.

For last-minute updates in case of uncertain weather, call (916) 558-3912.

Early deadlines

News and advertising deadlines will come early for the next issue of the News-Ledger.

The timing of the New Year holidays will force the News-Ledger to print early.

Deadline for submissions to the Jan. 2 issue will be noon on Thursday, Dec. 27.

Please call 371-8030 if you have any special deadline concerns.

Public asked to help fund local museum

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

After a round of soliciting ideas on what to do with the 1940s-era former Washington Firehouse, West Sacramento's city council has asked a local historical society and a Sacramento art gallery proprietor to try to combine their plans into a feasible joint proposal. The result – if local history activists get their wish – could be an art gallery and workshop combined with a museum.

"At a recent meeting, the council said they want to see if we can consolidate our proposals into one," said Lana Paulhamus, president of the West Sacramento Historical Society. "They asked us to come back with one proposal encompassing the needs of an art gallery, art classes, and a West Sacramento Historical Society visitor's center."

The history society had previously submitted a proposal for using part of the old "Art Deco" style building, in a "complementary" fashion to the plans of art gallery owner Alan Osborne. Osborne owns the "Art Foundry" on R Street in Sacramento, and has founded the River Valley Art Center nonprofit group, reported Paulhamus.

Key to the new proposal is evidence that the two entities jointly have enough money to rehabilitate and operate the shared building. The council would like some financial details by its Jan. 16 meeting.

"We're starting a pledge campaign to solicit financial support from the community," she said. "We'll find out if the community really wants to have an art gallery and history center, and if they're willing to stand behind it. We have over $1,200 now from people who want to see this happen."

How much money do they need to raise?

"We're trying to get as much money as we can," answered Paulhamus. "(The museum portion of the proposal) is not going to get a free ride out of this deal – we need to have enough of our own funds to assist in the rehabilitation of the building."

Paulhamus believes that West Sacramento needs some fine arts.

"Like I testified to the city council, we have 50 restaurants, seven pizzerias, and zero art galleries, zero museums, zero performing arts centers. Do we need another restaurant (in the firehouse building), or should we offer the community the opportunity to grow?"

If the museum and art center are approved, said Paulhamus, the pair will be looking at sharing some space.

"We're looking at a joint gift shop featuring art and also West Sacramento Historical Society gifts, such as buttons, stationery and stuff they do at other museums."

The society is asking that people send pledges of money or in-kind contributions to the society at P.O. Box 65, West Sacramento, CA 95605. The public may also contact Paulhamus at 372-5117. She's hoping to raise a significant amount of pledged money by Jan. 5.

The pledges will only be collected if the project moves forward.

The C Street firehouse, near the river front in West Sacramento's northeastern "Washington" district, is currently disused. It was rescued from destruction after efforts by Paulhamus and other architecture buffs and history activists convinced the council to spare it from the bulldozer.

City clerk Helen Kanowsky bids for county clerk's job

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

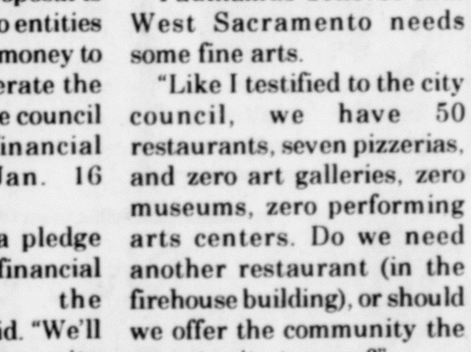
A familiar local name will be one of the two candidates vying for the Yolo County Clerk's job on the county-wide ballot next March.

Helen Kanowsky, city clerk for West Sacramento ever since there's been a city of West Sacramento, will run for the job being vacated next year by four-term incumbent Tony Bernhard. Kanowsky will oppose one of Bernhard's deputies, Freddie Oakley, in a bid for the position.

"I think it would be a challenge," said Kanowsky of the county job. "I built the city clerk's office we have now, and it runs smoothly and efficiently and is technologically advanced. (The county clerk's position) would give me an opportunity to see what I can do. I'm a pretty creative person."

Kanowsky, a Los Angeles-area native, moved permanently to West Sacramento in 1976. She had already started working for a local fire district in the area beginning in 1971. When local voters chose cityhood, she came on board with the City of West Sacramento as "deputy city clerk" immediately after incorporation in 1987. At the time, the official title of "city clerk" was held by the city manager (then Gene Roh), but the title has since been shifted to Kanowsky.

Kanowsky, 51, has an associate of arts degree from a Southern California community college, and has participated in other training including three years of education to become a "certified municipal clerk."



Helen M. Kanowsky

As city clerk, Kanowsky has worked closely with the elected city council members of West Sacramento. But in West Sacramento, like most other cities, the city clerk's job isn't itself an elected position. The run for the Yolo County Clerk's job will be her first foray into politics.

The county clerk's job may be under-appreciated, she said. But it's important.

"The county clerk controls the integrity of the voting process," she said. "And the integrity of the records kept by the recorder's part of the office is important to everybody who has property."

Kanowsky isn't sure exactly what changes she'd like to make in the county clerk's office — "I'm still looking for information to see how other people do it, and I can't really say what I would do until I know what my choices are." But she believes there is room to improve the technology used by the county to record documents and to count votes.

Technology improvements for voting and for the recording of documents are 'worth looking into,' said Kanowsky

"I know technology is available to streamline that function – to make it easier to record and retrieve information," she said. Changing from punch card voting to more advanced voting methods such as "touch-screen" computer voting "is worth looking into in more depth" as well, she added.

"Someone was telling me they knew a disabled person in a different county who was able to vote in a booth using this procedure for the first time, and for the first time he didn't have to vote with an absentee ballot. I'm willing to look into that."

How much money does a person need to raise in order to compete successfully for the county clerk's job?

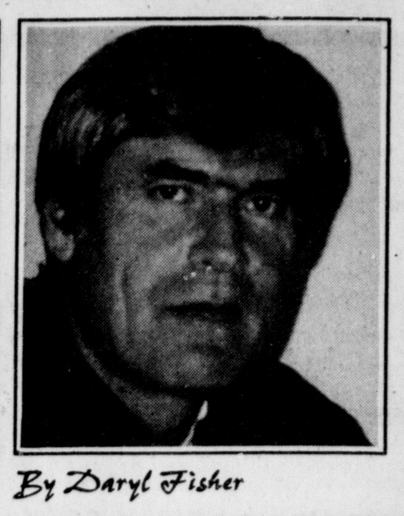
"From all the information I can get, it probably costs $20,000 to $30,000 at least," said Kanowsky.

Because there will be only two candidates, the March ballot will decide the race and there will be no need for a November runoff. Winner takes office in early 2003.

Does your relationship need some 'role reversal' therapy?

Note: Daryl is taking Christmas week off from column writing. Here is one of his favorites from the past.

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

I don't remember the name of the movie (I think it was 'Annie Hall'), but Woody Allen and Diane Keaton were sitting next to each other on a plane, discussing the possibility that they were no longer really in love.

"Let's face it," said Diane to Woody, "I don't think our relationship is working anymore. What do you think?"

"Well," said Woody philosophically, "I think relationships are a lot like sharks. They either keep moving forward or they die."

"Oh," said Diane, not exactly sure what Woody meant.

"And unfortunately," added Woody, "what I think we got on our hands here, is a dead shark."

A young couple with similar problems were on a talk show I was watching the other day, but according to the psychologist sitting next to them, they were going to be okay because they had discovered "role reversal therapy" just in the nick of time.

"So," the moderator of the program asked the psychologist, "just what is `role reversal therapy'?"

"Well," explained the psychologist, "we are finding that most couples have an incredible lack of understanding and empathy for the real life experiences of their partners, and this can be very toxic."

"Really?" said the moderator, as confused as I was.

"That's right," continued the psychologist. "There are literally millions of men out there who don't know what it's really like to be a woman, and there's just as many women who don't have the foggiest idea what it's like to be a man."

"Can you give us a few examples?" asked the moderator.

"Certainly. For instance, men don't have a clue what it's like to go through child labor and give birth."

A lady quickly stood up in the audience and added, "And if men had to give birth, the world population explosion would come to a screeching halt in about nine months!"

Anyway, just as I was learning how important it is for men and women to voluntarily exchange some of the roles they have assumed in their relationships, my wife strolled by and said, "I thought you said you were going to wash that filthy dog of yours today?"

"I've changed my mind," I said bravely.

"Oh? And why is that? He reeks."

"Well," I said, "for the health of our relationship, I think you should give Mikey his bath this time."

"Is that right?" she asked.

"That's what the psychologist on this talk show is saying."

"Really?"

"Yeah. And apparently we'd get along even better if you started doing all the yard work, took out the garbage, and washed the car from time to time, too."

"I see. And has he said anything yet about who's going to cook your dinner tonight if you don't wash that gross dog?"

"Not yet. Only that I should be more understanding if you ever give birth to another baby."

After the television show was over and after I had finished mowing the lawn, took out the garbage, and washed both the car and Mikey, I came to the reluctant conclusion that we probably shouldn't mess too much with male and female roles. I mean, they've evolved over centuries and centuries and there's probably a pretty good reason why things have turned out the way they have.

I also thought back to something else Woody Allen had said about relationships at the end of "Annie Hall": "It's like that old joke, you know, this guy goes to a psychiatrist and says, `Doc, my brother's crazy. He thinks he's a darn chicken'. And the doctor says, `Well, why don't you take him to a mental hospital?' And the guy says, `I would, but we need the eggs'. Well, that's pretty much how I feel about relationships. You know, they're totally irrational and crazy and absurd at times, but I guess we keep on having them because, you know, uh, most of us need the eggs."

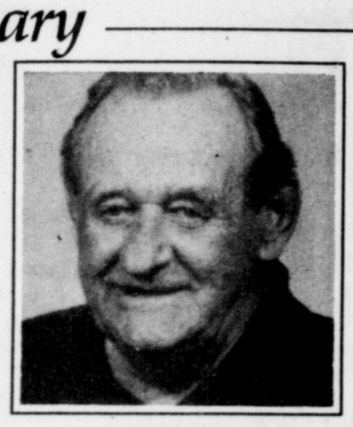
Joke of the week: A loaded mini-van pulled into the only remaining campsite. Four children who had been on the road for six hours leaped from the vehicle and began feverishly unloading gear and setting up the tent. The boys rushed to gather firewood, while the girls and their mother set up the camp stove and cooking utensils.

A nearby camper marveled to the youngsters' father, "That, sir, is some display of teamwork."

The father replied, "I have a system: no one goes to the bathroom until the camp is set up."

Obituary

Frank J. Norton



Frank Norton was born on September 23, 1910 in Broderick, California. As a lifelong resident of what is now know as West Sacramento, Frank loved to tell tales of the characters of Broderick. He penned a chronicle of the city entitled The Town of Washington and was often called upon to share his vast knowledge of the local history and folklore.

Frank worked at George Beal's store, and retired from the Southern Pacific Railroad as a painter. He also served as Commissioner of the Washington Fire District in the 1960s.

Frank enjoyed taking his granddaughters on the old trolley car downtown to the Country Maid on K Street for a banana milkshake. He was a wonderful storyteller, a friend to everyone he met, and never turned down a hot cup of coffee. He passed away in his sleep on Dec. 19, 2001.

Frank is survived by his loving wife of 64 years, Elsie; his devoted sons, Bruce and Frank; five granddaughters, one great- grandson, another great-grandchild on the way, nieces, nephews and friends too numerous to mention.

A memorial service will be held at Community Lutheran Church on Friday, December 28th at 11:00 a.m., with a reception to follow at the VFW Hall across the street. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to Community Lutheran Church on Drever Street, or the Arthur F. Turner library on Merkley Avenue, both in West Sacramento.

Local girl wins area NFL contest

West Sacramento's Ariel Gregersen, age 11, took first place honors at the Oakland Raiders Team Championship of the NFL Gatorade Punt, Pass & Kick competition on Sunday, December 9th, at the Network Associates Coliseum.

Ariel finished in first place at a local competition held at Westfield School during the Afterschool Adventure program. From there she advanced to the Sacramento area sectional competition and again took top honors.

Ariel's score at the Team Championship has qualified her for an all expenses-paid trip to the National Punt, Pass & Kick competition on January 19, 2002.

The Kings' walking wounded return to the Arco Arena on December 26th to face the Portland Trailblazers (7 p.m.). Sacramento is trying to mend their rebounding force to prepare for another home stand. Chris Webber missed a couple of games last week with tendonitis is left ankle and center Vlade Divac is also nursing a sore ankle.

The Kings will be at home for a four game stand that will bring in Minnesota on Friday, December 28th, the Boston Celtics on Sunday, December 30th and the young guns from Los Angeles, the Clippers on January 2nd. There are tickets available at the Arco Arena Box Office for these three games, which will not be televised.

West Sacramento's WBA super-bantamweight champion, Willie Jorrin, is headed to the Far East to defend this title against the No. 3 contender, Osahu Sato of Japan. Jorrin, who has not fought in over a year, will be making the second defense of his title. Jorrin defended his crown at the Arco Arena last January against Oscar Larios of Mexico. The WBC champ will receive $150,000 plus expenses, the biggest payday of his career.

A sold-out crowd at the Feather Falls Casino last Wednesday watched heavyweight contender, David Tua, improve his chances at another title shot with an eight round knockout of Garing Lane. Tua's record is now 39 win, 3 losses with 34 KOs. Tua's promoters are pushing for a fight against Lennox Lewis or the WBC champion, John Ruiz . Sacramentos cruiserweight, Michael Simms, stopped Ali Sanchez of Miami in the three round to stay undefeated at 9-0. On

INVITATION TO BID

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Director of Community Development, 1951 South River Road, West Sacramento, California until 2:00 p.m. local time on *Tuesday, January 15, 2002 at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read aloud for the:

Harbor and Industrial Boulevard Water Transmission Main

The proposed work consists of the following:

Description of Work: The work shall consist of furnishing and installing large diameter water transmission main piping, fittings and appurtenances such as air valves, gate valves, butterfly valves, tapping sleeves, blowoffs, casings, manholes, couplings, hangers, joint restraints and all related components necessary to complete the work as shown on the Contract Drawings and/or as specified herein. Notable items of work include a trenchless undercrossing below Highway-50, a second trenchless undercrossing below UPRR railroad tracks, and a suspended/aerial bridge crossing over the ship channel. Work will include making connections between the new water main and existing water mains; and where existing water mains are to remain in service these connections will be made using tapping sleeves, gate valves and tapping machines. The work also includes a cathodic protection system consisting of anode test stations, test stations and pipe isolation systems.

The water main alignment will be located within Caltrans, UPRR and/or City right-of-ways and the work will include securing appropriate and necessary encroachment permits. Since much of the work is within streets and traffic corridors, extensive traffic control plans are to be prepared and implemented to maintain good traffic flow and minimize backups and congestion; work shall include, but is not limited to, furnishing arrow boards, flagmen, signs, cones, barricades, rails, temporary striping and other traffic control devices.

Work occurring within the street right-of-way will likely employ an open-cut trench method of installation involving the removal of existing pavement, excavation of trench, placement of bedding, laying of pipe, backfilling, compacting, replacing pavement subgrade and providing temporary cut-back paving. Aggregate, drain rock and other specified backfill materials must be furnished and used for trench fill. Trenches, pits and excavations shall require installation of adequate sheeting, shoring and bracing.

Work will include removal and disposal of trench spoil and other excavated soil unsuitable for use as trench backfill and furnishing and installing adequate dewatering facilities and equipment to keep trenches and excavations free of water, groundwater and runoff.

Pipe laying work will be conducted in a manner that keeps the interior of the piping clean and free of groundwater, drainage, runoff, dirt, and debris; and cleaning, flushing and disinfecting of the water main will be completed prior to bringing any portion of the new water main into service. Also, work shall involve conducting and passing hydrostatic pressure tests with acceptable allowable leakage prior to acceptance by the City.

Work shall also consist of replacing pavement, traffic detector loops, buried traffic signal loops, sidewalks, curb & gutter, utilities, public and private landscaping, reseeding of exposed slopes and topsoil, and any other existing improvements removed or damaged during construction.

Completion of Work: All work shall be completed within three hundred (300) working days from the date designated on the Notice to Proceed. The first order of work shall be all work identified on sheets C-07 through C-10. All first order work as identified on the Contract Plans and/or specified specified herein shall be completed within the first one hundred fifty (150) working days from the date designated on the Notice to Proceed.

Obtaining Contract Documents: Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the Director of Community Development, 1951 South River Road, West Sacramento, California. A copy of bid documents may be obtained at the office upon request and payment of $35.00 or may be mailed upon request and payment of $40.00. The amount of the payment is non-refundable.

Submission of Proposals: All proposals must be submitted not later than the time prescribed. The bidder is wholly responsible to see that his bid is submitted at the time and place designated for the opening of bids. Any bid received after the time and date specified shall not be considered. Any bid may be withdrawn prior to the scheduled time for opening bids.

Each bid must conform and be responsive to this notice and shall be made on the official proposal forms furnished with the contract documents.

Attention is directed to the provisions of the Business and Professions Code Section 7028.15 which makes it a misdemeanor for any person without a valid contractors license (with specific exceptions) to submit a bid to act as a Contractor to a public agency.

Proposal Guarantee: Each proposal must be accompanied by cash, a cashier's check, certified check or bid bond, executed on the prescribed form, in an amount not less than ten (10) percent of the total bid price payable to the City of West Sacramento.

Bidders are hereby notified that in accordance with the provisions of Government Code Section 4590, securities may be substituted for any monies which the City may withhold pursuant to the terms of this Contract to ensure performance.

Construction License: The successful bidder must possess a current Class "A" General Engineering or Class "C-34" Pipeline Contractor's License issued by the State of California.

Award: The award shall be made to the lowest responsible bidder whose proposal complies with the specified requirements. The award of Contract will be made by the Director of Community Development, and the Contractor shall execute the Contract within ten (10) days after he has received the Contract from the City.

The City reserves the right to waive any irregularity in the proposals. No bid may be withdrawn for a period of sixty (60) days after the opening of bids.

Rejection of Bids: The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Any bid not conforming to the intent and purpose of the Contract documents may be rejected. The City reserves the right to make all awards in the best interest of the City.

Disqualification of Bidder: If there is a reason to believe that collusion exists among any bidders, none of the bids of the participants in such collusion will be considered and the City may likewise elect to reject all bids received.

Relief of Bidder: Attention is directed to the provisions of Public Contracts Code Section 5101 and following, concerning relief of bidders and in particular to the requirements therein that if the bidder claims a mistake was made in his bid, the bidder shall give the City written notice, within five (5) days after the opening of bids of the alleged mistake, specifying in the notice, in detail, how the mistake occurred.

Wage Rates: Bidders are hereby notified that the California Director of Industrial Relations has determined the general prevailing rate of wages for each craft, classification, or type of worker needed to execute the work.

It shall be mandatory for the Contractor and any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the said specified rates to laborers and workmen employed by them in the execution of the Contract.

Bonds: The successful bidder will be required to furnish a payment bond in an amount equal to one hundred (100) percent of the Contract price, and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to one hundred (100) percent of the Contract price.

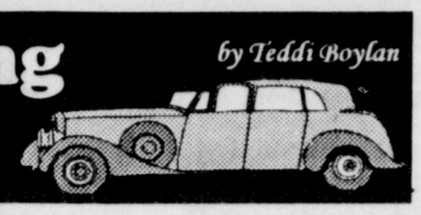
DINING, TRAVEL & ENTERTAINMENT

Touring with Teddi

by Teddi Boylan



Columnist Teddi Boylan brings you her recommendations of places to dine and places to visit in and around the West Sacramento area. Her travels include both stops at our advertisers' establishments and other institutions. Enjoy!

"Oh I must go down to the sea again, to the lonely sea and sky."

My apologies to Maysfield, but no apology for my need to visit Bodega Bay once again. Most people of my acquaintance do not realize that this month is one of the nicest months for weather in this coastal town. Combined with the beautifully decorated homes, restaurants and inns, it truly gives you the Christmas spirit.

Bodega Bay is a small commercial and sportfishing harbor just a few miles north of the Sonoma County line, and the scenery to get there on Hwy. 116 and Hwy. 12 is breathtaking. Coast Guardsmennow keep watch where smugglers were supposed to have operated. The bay is named after Juan Francisco de la Bodega y Cuadra, who sailed the schooner "Sonora" beneath the headlands in 1775. Bodega's cross, fashioned from a pole and a stave from a cask, was on the head when an English naturalist came ashore in 1793. The site is now permanently marked. All times of the year, you will find recreational vehicles parked in many of Bodega's coastal parks. If you are interested in more information on park sites, call (707) 865-2391. The University of California Marine Laboratory is open for tours each Friday at 2 p.m.

As you enter the town, you will find the Bodega Bay Lodge on your left. The Bodega Bay Lodge has beautiful accommodations overlooking Doran Park Beaches and bird-filled marshes. They also have great meeting accommodations and The Duck Club restaurant. Bodega Bay Lodge can be reached at (800) 368-2468.

Our first stop was Lucas Wharf, where we enjoyed a fabulous lunch while seated at a window table overlooking the mouth of the harbor and a few commercial fishing boats moored right under our noses. When we entered the restaurant, we were greeted by their lovely hostess, Leana, who was wearing an outrageous pair of Christmas tree sunglasses guaranteed to put a smile on your face. My daughter Joanne requested a window table upon entering, and we had a short wait in their small cocktail lounge in front of a cozy fire.

I enjoyed clam linguini, and it was superb. It not only had fresh clams in the sauce, but was rimmed with clams still in the shell (you should have seen our waiter's face when I told him I wanted to take the shells home – but he even washed them for me!). My partners opted for fish & chips – large, hot and crispy. The food and the service at Lucas Wharf were excellent and most unobtrusive. It has been years since I have been to Bodega Bay, and the people at Lucas Wharf have really made many improvements to their wharf. There's an outside patio, a raised central walkway, benches for sitting and watching the many pelicans who hang out there (and in fact all over the bay). Lucas Wharf also has a fresh fish market and deli, with both inside and outside tables. Be sure to bring a cooler and take some of their certified fresh fish home – especially the crab. Call (707) 875-3522.

Our next stop was the Tides Wharf Restaurant, renovated a number of years ago and containing its own market, cocktail lounge, snack bar as well as a first-class restaurant and gift shop. Accommodations can be arranged at the Inn at the Tides by calling (707) 875-2751.

Along the coast highway in Bodega Bay, you will find the Breakers Café and the Sandpiper Restaurant. The Sandpiper is right down at the harbor where the sportfishing boats go out, and it is the most popular with the locals. (707) 875-2278.

None of these places is inexpensive, but the atmosphere is worth it. The Sandpiper is the least expensive. However high your expectations, Bodega Bay will live up to them. "Touring With Teddi" will be taking a bus tour to Bodega Bay in the near future – watch this column for dates, times and cost.

Some other places to eat are Roadhouse Coffee, 2001 Bodega Bay, (707) 875-8820; The Dog House, next to the post office in Bodega Bay at 875-2441; and Sea Breezes Seafood and A Taste of Mexico, Hwy. 1, Bodega Bay, 875-9190.

In the meantime, the Alexander Valley, Dry Creek Valley, Russian River Valley wineries, bed & breakfasts and lodging establishments invite you to attend their annual celebration of winter, "Winter Wineland," on Jan. 19-20, Saturday and Sunday, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. There will be over 70 wineries and 80 lodging establishments. Tickets are $30 per person for both days if bought by Jan. 11. You must be 21 or over to purchase a ticket. Call (800) 723-6336.

I have information on a New Year's dinner taking place locally, including prime rib, champagne, hats and favors. $20 per person, 6-10 p.m. New Year's Eve. Also, a Super Bowl potluck party. Details are too late for publication here, but call me at 372-5110 for information! See you there!

Springtime In The Mountains: A Cure For Winter Blues

(NAPS)—Are you suffering from a bad case of cabin fever? Have the winter blues got you down? What you need is a big dose of springtime in the mountains, and there's no better place to head than Great Smoky Mountains National Park in East Tennessee.

Nature puts on a spectacular springtime show of color in the Smokies. The warm sunshine brings a rich green base to the park as trees sprout new leaves and fresh blades of grass emerge from the mountain floor. Beginning in late March, woodland wildflowers, including red bud, flowering dogwood and violets greet visitors to this popular national park.

Stretch those tired limbs with a walk on one of the park's many flower-lined trails. If a driving tour is more your style, there are several scenic routes through the park that offer great wildflower viewing.

Great Smoky Mountains National Park is home to a variety of wildlife, as well, including black bear, white-tailed deer and a variety of birds and reptiles. And if you look carefully, you may see a new addition to the park this year.

For the first time in 150 years elk are back home in the Great Smoky Mountains. In the spring of 2001, 25 elk were released into the park with another 25 to 30 scheduled for release in 2002 and 2003. The project is designed to reintroduce native species to areas from which they were once eliminated.

Remember to view all wildlife from a safe distance. For your own personal safety and that of the animals, use your binoculars if you want a closer look.

While the mountains are blooming with color and bustling with wildlife, nearby Pigeon Forge, Tennessee, does its own blooming and bustling in the spring.

The city adds a burst of color during A Mountain Quiltfest in March. Quilts in all shapes and sizes, in a variety of styles and colorful hues, bring a touch of tradition to Pigeon Forge that's sure to brighten even the most winter-weary spirits.

And speaking of brightening spirits, what could be a better pick-me-up than a parade led by Dolly Parton! That's exactly what you'll see April 5 as Miss Dolly leads a parade down the Parkway, marking the beginning of the city's spring season of entertainment. With marching bands, floats and area celebrities, the event has become a favorite among Pigeon Forge visitors, drawing more than 40,000 viewers each year.

Spring marks a new season for Pigeon Forge theaters and attractions, including Dollywood entertainment park.

The combination of springtime mountain beauty and all the exciting activities in Pigeon Forge makes this East Tennessee city the perfect all-American family destination. For more information call 1-800-251-9100.

Tips To Help You

Risotto: Easier To Make Than You Think

Risotto's creamy texture provides a delicious backdrop for simple or exotic ingredients.

(NAPS)—Risotto, the traditional rice dish of Italy, may be haute cuisine on the restaurant scene, but it is pure comfort food at heart and much simpler to make than you might imagine.

"The rumor is, risotto is somewhat tricky to master," says Kimberly Park of the USA Rice Federation. "But if you can stir, you can cook risotto—it's that easy."

In restaurants, risotto may be served as an entrée, but also an appetizer, side dish, or even a dessert. Like many food trends that begin in restaurants, the dish is quickly moving into home kitchens.

To help cooks conquer "risottophobia," USA Rice recently developed a new brochure, "Risotto: Causing a Stir," featuring tips for making perfect risotto, along with 10 easy-to-prepare recipes.

"The reason risotto is so wildly popular is not difficult to define," says Park. "It's a one-dish meal that's easy to prepare, perfect for a weekday supper or a relaxing dinner with friends, elegant without being complex, and the ultimate comfort food—rich, filling and nourishing to the soul."

Tangy Tomato and Lemon Risotto

4 cups chicken broth
1 tablespoon olive oil
2 finely chopped shallots
1 cup uncooked arborio or medium grain rice
1 cup cherry tomatoes
¼ cup lemon juice
1 tablespoon lemon peel

Heat broth in 2-quart saucepan over medium heat until it comes to a simmer. Reduce heat to low and keep warm. Meanwhile, heat oil in large saucepan over medium heat. Add shallots; cook until soft. Add rice and stir 2 to 3 minutes. Increase heat to medium-high; stir in 1 cup broth. Cook uncovered, stirring frequently, until broth is absorbed. Continue stirring and add remaining broth, 1 cup at a time, allowing each cup to be absorbed before adding another. Cook until rice is tender and mixture has a creamy consistency, approximately 25 to 30 minutes. Stir in tomatoes, lemon juice and lemon peel. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

For a free copy of "Risotto: Causing a Stir," send a self-addressed, business-size, stamped envelope to: "Risotto," c/o USA Rice, P.O. Box 740121, Houston, TX 77274. Recipes and tips can also be found at www.ricecafe.com.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF TIMOTHY JOSEPH ALLEN
PB02-325

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Timothy Joseph Allen:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Barbara Schultz in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Barbara Schultz be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on Jan. 29, 2002, at 8:30 a.m. in Dept. 5 at the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo, 725 Court St., Woodland, CA 95695.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Have a good Christmas, Lynne.
Thanks, Stacey. Happy Hanukkah. Any special plans?
We're driving to Pennsylvania to visit my mom.
Oh, that's nice.
Sort of. I'm sure she'll chew us out for not calling enough, not appreciating her, wearing blue instead of red, blah, blah, blah...
Geez, why bother going?

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Thanks for the holiday cheer!

We would like to express our sincere thanks to everyone in the community as well as organizations for making the holiday season so special for our residents at Somerset Nursing Center. God bless each and everyone of you! Love always.

Holiday trash: much can be recycled!

From the City of West Sacramento

No matter how hard you try, holidays always seem to create a little extra trash. This year recycling during the holidays is easier with the curbside-recycling cart. Here are some simple ways to help manage your holiday trash to include recycling:

Flatten shirt boxes, food boxes, wrapping paper, paper towel and wrapping paper tubes and place in the recycling cart with the green lid. Empty food cans, soda bottles, wine and beer bottles (glass or plastic) are more items that can find their way into the curbside recycling cart. Tissue paper and holiday cards may both be included in the cart. Flatten cardboard boxes when placing in the cart to make room for gift catalogs no longer needed.

Remove tinsel and ornaments and place the Christmas tree at the curb for recycling.

Remember, too, that Tuesday through Friday Refuge and Recycling Service will be delayed by one day both the week of Christmas and New Years. For more information on curbside recycling, call the customer service division of the City of West Sacramento at 373-5810.

GSMS counselor Linda Guadagno nominated for 'Educator of Year'

The California League of Middle Schools honored Linda Guadagno, a Golden State Middle School counselor as a nominee for "Educator of the Year", Region 3. She received recognition for this award at an awards presentation held at the Rancho Cordova Marriott on December 6, 2001.

Guadagno was nominated by a group of her peers to receive this award and the CLMS board reviewed her candidacy and she was advanced to the final group.

Guadagno has been a 28-year employee of the Washington Unified School District. She began her career at West Acres School before moving to Golden State Middle School in 1978. She became a school counselor in 1983 and has held that position ever since.

"This is a high honor for Linda and the Golden State staff," said GSMS Principal Ken Whittemore. "We are very proud of her, and the recognition she received for all of her hard work was well-deserved."

RCHS students challenged to improve air quality by walking, biking, carpooling—

River City High School hosted a "Clean Air Challenge" day, sponsored by the American Lung Association, last month. Students were encouraged to find ways to reduce the number of single-occupant cars they drove to school. The day included skits and a rap music band.

SMUD and the Yolo-Solano Air Quality Management District brought electric and hybrid cars for dispay. Students who used pollution-reducing ways to get to school – such as walking – were randomly selected to receive incentive prizes.

Was your home visited by Christmas carollers?

This group of singers from River City High School's leadership class, led by teacher Cathy Costanza, toured various homes before the holiday.

Soccer

The Sacramento Knights are reaching out to the community for support in their bid to join the Major Indoor Soccer League (MISL). The Knights are currently playing in the World Indoor Soccer League (WISL). The two leagues are considering a merger next year to form a stronger coast-to-coast professional indoor soccer league. The Knights have a great community outreach program and the team has been quite successful in the league standing and at the box office. The obstacle facing the Knights is the proposed league schedule that could conflict with Kings for the use of the Arco Arena. The new league wants to operate from October through April. Anothe key factor could be a TV contract. The MISL is negotiating a TV contract with ESPN and the Fox Sports Network.

Three other WISL teams have committed to join the MISL next season. The Dallas Sidekicks, San Diego Sockers and St. Louis Steamers have announced their intentions to join the new league. The MISL franchises include Baltimore, Cleveland, Harrisburg, Pa., Kansas City, Milwaukee and Philadelphia.

Baseball News

Merry Christmas to Barry Bonds! The home run king will be back in San Francisco wearing the Black and Orange for at least one more year. No other teams showed much interest in Barry so the single-season home run champ is going to arbitration. Bonds was looking for a 4 year deal at $25 million per year but with the system baseball has set up Bonds is guaranteed at least $8.2 million to match the salary the Braves signed Andruw Jones for this year. The Giants have until February to sign Mr. Bonds to long-term contract or it goes to arbitration. Bonds hit 73 home runs so what do you think the Giants are going to offer their All-Star slugger! Can you say - $15 million per year and a partridge in a pear tree!

Enjoy your holiday! See ya next week!

College test

College-bound high school students can register by Jan. 4 to take the Feb. 9 ACT assessment test. ACT scores are accepted at most colleges and universities. Test fee is $24. Contact your high school counselor for more information.

Flag retirement

West Sacramento VFW Post 8762 is collecting warn, tattered and unserviceable American flags for proper disposal. Anyone wishing to turn in a flag in need of retirement may take it to the post at daily after 10 a.m. Call 371-7245 for information.

College finance

River City High School will host a "financial aid night" on Wed., Jan. 9, from 6-7:30 p.m. at the school library. College-bound seniors and their parents are invited.

Electronics disposal

The Yolo County landfill is now accepting electronic goods for recycling, after new state laws have prevented their disposal in landfills. Electronic items such as typewriters, cellphones, fax machines, stereos, computers (except monitors) and VCRs are accepted free of charge. TV monitors and computer monitors with screens 20 inches or less, measured diagonally, can be received for a $12 fee. Larger monitors cost $18 to recycle and console televisions cost $25. Call (530) 757-5564 for information.

Name that fair

Yolo County Fair officials have announced a contest to name the theme of the 2002 fair. All county residents are invited to enter, and officials intend to choose a patriotic theme. The winner will receive a plaque with his or her name inscribed. The fair is scheduled for Aug. 14-18. Entries may be mailed to Marjorie Pearce, Exhibit Coordinator, Yolo County Fair, PO Box 826, Woodland CA 95776, and must be postmarked by Feb. 4. Call 530-662-5393 for information.

Air quality officer

The Yolo-Solano Air Quality Management District has an opening on its hearing board for the position of medical profession member. The board meets to decide on petitions for variances from air quality rules, and hears appeals involving permit or emission credit reduction decisions. Terms are for three years. Applications must be received by Dec. 7. Call (530) 757-3650 or (800) 287-3650, or visit www.ysaqmd.org.

Moose Lodge

And the lodge will host its biggest party of the year on New Year's Eve, with no-host cocktails from 6 p.m., a filet mignon dinner beginning at 7:30, and dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to "Pete Grimaldi and the Blues Box Rockin' Bayou Band." Only 125 tickets will be sold. $25 per person; call 371-6303 early.

Support teen center

The West Sacramento Teen Center project asks for your consideration for your year-end charitable giving. The planned 12,000 square foot facility will serve teens 13-18 at a Merkley Ave. site, and is expected to open before summer. The teen center is planned in partnership with an area Christian organization, and will offer a safe, drug and alcohol-free place for local youths. The project has raised $684,672 towards its goal of $1,343,483. Call Bruce LaMaster at 376-6982, or send your donation to West Sacramento Teen Center, PO Box 15618, Sacramento CA 95852. Tax ID #68-0279554.

Parents Anonymous

Yolo Family Service Agency offers a "Parents Anonymous" group meeting Thursdays from 6:30-8 p.m. at the Family Resource Center, 409 Lincoln Ave. No fee; free child care. The support program offers a place to talk freely about being a parent. For information, call (530) 6629463 or 662-2211 ext. 33.

Art exhibit

Henriette Doglietto will exhibit artwork and calligraphy through January at the Arthur F. Turner Library, 1212 Merkley Ave. No charge.

Divorce/separation

Yolo Family Service Agency offers "Kids' Turn," a workshop for families experiencing divorce or separation. A six-week workshop begins Jan. 28 and meets Monday evenings from 6:30-8 p.m. in Woodland. The program serves parents and their children age 4-14. Mental health professionals and educators will lead the workshop. There is a sliding scale fee; children are free. Call (530) 662-2211, 753-8674 or 375-1254.

New Year fireworks!

For the second year, a partnership involving West Sacramento, Old Sacramento Management, the Sacramento Convention & Visitors Bureau, and Sacramento will offer fireworks shows visible from West Sacramento's River Walk and Sacramento's Riverfront Promenade. The first show will begin at 10 p.m. on Dec. 31, and the second will ring in the New Year at midnight. The fireworks will be accompanied by a patriotic music broadcast on The Eagle, 96.9 FM, so visitors are advised to bring a radio. No charge. For updates in case of uncertain weather, call (916) 558-3912.

Cabaldon open house

The campaign to elect Christopher Cabaldon to State Assembly invites you to an open house at its new campaign location, 834-C Jefferson Blvd. from 2-4 p.m. on Sat., Jan. 5. There will be refreshments and information on Cabaldon's campaign. Cabaldon seeks the seat being vacated by Democrat Helen Thomson, who is stepping aside due to term limits. He is a West Sacramento city councilman and former mayor.
